HELP

Shopping on Savoir

On our website, through the MATERIALS AND MAINTENANCE option for each product, as well as on the labels of our garments, you can find information on the proper maintenance of your garments.

Cotton
Due to its hygroscopicity and morphology, garments made of this material provide a feeling of natural comfort and are pleasant to the touch, which is why this fiber is great for garments in direct contact with the skin. It can be maintained by the usual procedures, provided that it is approved by the symbols and recommendations on the label with regard to the type of paint and finish.

Tencel
This is an artificial fiber of cellulose origin. It combines exceptional properties: softness, durability, freshness, moisture absorption and poor fiber accumulation. It does not crease easily or shrink and can be ironed without difficulty.
